SCENTS & SENSIBILITY

Perfume bottles may look lovely sitting atop a vanity at home, but they're not exactly practical for honeymoon air travel. Luckily, there's the Travalo, a refillable pocket-sized atomizer that provides a stylish solution to government restrictions on carry-on liquids. Simply affix the device to your favorite bottle of scent, and pump a TSA-approved amount of fragrance into the glass-free atomizer. Each refillable Travalo produces up to 50 sprays, and features a regulating system that adjusts to changes in air pressure during flights. The recently launched gift sets make great options for bridesmaids, and allow you to take multiple scents along on your honeymoon. Pricing starts at $15.99; us.travalo.com.
